Kojima Selected for the First Time as a “Supplier Engagement Leader,” Receiving the Highest Evaluation in CDP’s 2025 Supplier Engagement Assessment

Kojima Co., Ltd. (head office: Utsunomiya-shi, Tochigi-ken; Representative Director and President: Yuji Nakazawa) has been selected for the first time as a “Supplier Engagement Leader,” receiving the highest evaluation in the 2025 Supplier Engagement Assessment conducted by CDP, a nonprofit organization that operates an international environmental information disclosure platform.

The Supplier Engagement Assessment evaluates how effectively companies engage their supply chains on climate issues. It assesses performance based on five categories: risk management processes, governance and business strategy, supplier engagement, Scope 3 emissions, and targets.

In December 2025, we were selected for the first time as an “A List” company, receiving the highest evaluation in the CDP Climate Change category. We believe that the latest evaluation confirms that we also meet high international standards in our efforts to address climate change across our supply chain.

Our material priorities include “supporting future consumer electronics” to promote home appliances that are friendly to the environment and people, and “stores supporting the future” for the creation of stores friendly to the environment and people and useful for daily lives.

Moving forward, under our purpose statement, “To be a company that supports everyday living by providing consumer electronics with a view toward the creation of a bright and happy future full of smiles,” we will continue to cooperate with our supply chain partners to address environmental challenges and help build a sustainable society.
