Kojima is Once Again Selected as a Constituent of the ESG Indices "FTSE JPX Blossom Japan Index" and "FTSE JPX Blossom Japan Sector Relative Index"

Kojima Co., Ltd. (the "Company"), hereby announces that it has been selected for inclusion in the "FTSE JPX Blossom Japan Index" and the "FTSE JPX Blossom Japan Sector Relative Index" for the third consecutive year, both of which are stock price indices for Japanese companies actively engaged in environmental, social, and governance (ESG) initiatives.

The "FTSE JPX Blossom Japan Index" and the "FTSE JPX Blossom Japan Sector Relative Index" are ESG indices designed by FTSE Russell, a global index provider, to measure the performance of Japanese companies with high environmental, social, and governance (ESG) ratings. The indices have been adopted as ESG indices by Japan's Government Pension Investment Fund (GPIF), one of the world's largest pension funds.

The Company promotes "sustainability management," a management approach aimed at solving social issues through its business activities while enhancing corporate value and achieving growth. In addition to its efforts to reduce GHG emissions, it has pursued initiatives relating to climate change and human capital, including obtaining third-party assurance for its GHG emissions and being recognized as a 2026 KENKO Investment for Health Outstanding Organization. The Company believes that these initiatives and related information disclosures were highly regarded.

Its material priorities include "supporting future consumer electronics" to promote home appliances that are friendly to the environment and people and "supporting our colleagues" to create an environment where diverse members can thrive.

Moving forward, under its purpose statement, "To be a company that supports everyday living by providing consumer electronics with a view toward the creation of a bright and happy future full of smiles," the Company will continue to contribute to the realization of a sustainable society and strive to enhance corporate value.
